

Jae Rhee, DDS

Dentist

Education: Bachelor of Science in Biological Sciences at Marquette University, Doctor of Dental Surgery at Marquette University School of Dentistry.

Dental Interests: The most special aspect about dentistry is that each and every person/patient has a unique set of teeth. And that makes providing dental care not only exciting, challenging, and humbling, but very rewarding at the same time!

Hobbies: Exploring the beautiful Pacific Northwest and finding the best pizza and burger in town.